Activity: Mystery box

The purpose of this activity is simple: to let your child explore an object using their sense of touch.

For this activity you can use an empty tissue box, a clorox wipes container, or baby wipes container, and a sharpie.

Decorate the box however you want, it can be something simple with a sharpie or you can decorate it with different objects and textures you have around your home.

Put an item in the box and ...

If the child is good at exploring with his hands, let him put his hand inside the box and ask him questions about the texture and shapes of the object, ask him if he can guess what is inside.

If the child refuses to explore with his/her hands, you can put your hand inside and describe what you are feeling, then take the object out of the box and give it to your child, he can feel the box with his hands or feet.
